BIBLIOGRAPHY

This bibliography, which has been published quarterly since Lincoln Lore was established, has been made possible by the cooperation of collectors, authors, editors, publishers and others who have kindly forwarded information about current Lincoln items.

We regret that the decision to keep this list confined to items appearing during the quarter, does not allow us to publish the titles of the many items which are called to our attention after the previous edition has gone to press.

Another classification of Lincoln books which fails to get into this bibliography is the foreign publications. Information about this group usually arrives too late to be included in the bibliography for the quarter.

Privately printed monographs, articles appearing in house organs, and contributions to periodicals of small circulation present the most difficult problem in gathering this bibliographical data.

The editor of Lincoln Lore would appreciate very much, any information about Lincoln literature which should be listed in these quarterly compilations.
