HEROIC BRONZE STATUES OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN

A valuable contribution to Lincolniana has just been made by the publication of an exhaustive and appreciative study of Abraham Lincoln in bronze. It is the work of Mr. Franklin B. Mead, the executive vice-president of the Lincoln National Life Insurance Company, who is also a connoisseur of art.

His close co-operation with Paul Manship, who recently created "Abraham Lincoln, The Hoosier Youth," the latest and one of the most successful studies of Lincoln in bronze, caused Mr. Mead to make careful observation of all heroic bronze statues of Lincoln. He was urged to put his findings in print.

Although this work was prepared primarily for distribution among his friends, Mr. Mead has been persuaded to issue a special edition of 300 numbered and signed copies which will be available to Lincoln students, collectors, and libraries at a nominal price.

The compilations of Lincoln statues to be found in this bulletin are copied from Mr. Mead's work and gives some idea of the scope of this extensive and intensive study.

It will be observed that only the heroic bronze statues, those life size or larger, are included.
