LINCOLN'S GENERALS — BIBLIOGRAPHY

A bibliography of all the books and pamphlets written about or by Union generals, serving in the Civil War, would neither be possible in a single issue of this bulletin, nor come under the plan in mind for this series of Lincoln reference books. In attempting to name some of the outstanding volumes which should be found in a library of collateral Lincolniana, there is room here for only a few of the biographical studies of the generals who came in constant contact with Lincoln, and who in some specific way have contributed valuable information about the Commander in Chief. These titles that follow, with their respective authors, have found their way into the collateral library of the Lincoln National Life Foundation. In some instances where the military leaders have had political ambitions also, which directly or indirectly reveal some Lincoln contact, these titles are listed. Many other books and pamphlets referring to the generals mentioned have been omitted because they have no direct bearing on the Lincoln story. No books or pamphlets relating to Lincoln's generals eligible for listing in Lincoln bibliographies are mentioned here.
