Sydney G. Fisher compiled the first bibliography of habeas corpus pamphlets and it was published in the Political Science Quarterly (volume III) in 1888. That original list is here supplemented by works found in the Louis A. Warren Lincoln Library and Museum and by information from Jay Monaghan's Lincoln Bibliography, 1839-1939 (Springfield: Illinois State Historical Library, 1945) and from John Russell Bartlett's Literature of the Rebellion (Boston: Draper and Halliday, 1866). It was not possible to examine a copy of every work listed here. Those that were available were read to make certain that a substantial portion of the text dealt with habeas corpus. As understood in law at the time, the issue was virtually inseparable from that of martial law. Several books were written on the subject, but they have been excluded from this list of small, paperbound works. Lincoln Lore welcomes information on any other titles not on this list or information that would improve the citations of these works.
